Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: The Jackson reference discloses a combination of an apertured film and fibrous nonwoven web that is a composite material wherein the material can be a personal care product such as a diaperwhich is liquid permeable. The two references are drawn to a personal care product made from a composite material which makes them analogous art. The motivation to combine the references is to make a liquid permeable composite material wherein liquids can pass through the voids.
